Wine name: Becker Landgraf Riesling
Appellation: Rheinhessen, Germany
Vintage: 2012

Bottle size: 750ml
Alcohol: 12.5% by VOL.
Case size: 12 bottle pack

Characteristics:

Pineapple, banana and cinnamon notes swim from the glass. The clear, balanced acidity rounds the body and grips each sip.

Food pairing:

Rieslings are by nature a very food friendly wine as the tropical fruit tones will complement a spice, salt or pepper on fish or meat. The true delight in this wine comes as a delicious sipper before or during appetizers or light courses. Because of the lip-smacking acidity, it will quench the thirstiest of Riesling seekers with the quality roundness and lingering finish. Enjoy best with a leafy salad, chicken, grilled salmon. Or try with a cheese risotto or noodle bowl.

Description:

Ever heard the saying, "do one thing and do it well?" This single Riesling is a stand-out. This motto is critical for a winemaker that wishes to hold and stay true to the integrity of their craft. Shining through is Becker Landgraf in this Riesling. The new 2012 vintage shows aromas of white flowers and tropical fruit. It presents the classic, racy structure of a multi-layered Riesling that so many other shelved wines just can't seem to match. Becker Landgraf has tapped into the authenticity of their Riesling from the Rheinhessen region, a quality winegrowing region in south central Germany. They delivered this beautiful, delicate wine to us this year with wide, open arms to again taste their Riesling that is so deliciously sipable. As the juice-running acidity surrounds your palate, your eyes will pop in surprise! A dry German Riesling? YES!

Rieslings in general have treated us wine lovers pretty well. It's a delicious grape that in its most simple form offers fresh cut green apples and a honey-filled body. Marry this with precious vineyards, meticulous winemaking and the Becker Landgraf vision – a pure beauty embraces every sip.

Becker Landgraf is husband and wife team, Julia and Johannes Landgraf. They opened in 2006 and are affectionately known as J2. They are a part of "message in a bottle" set of winemakers who are conscience of their roots, fearless in their creativity and confident to deliver delicious wine in its most natural and elegant form.
